The Prez Report:

G'day fight fans.

This will be short and sweet as due to extreme conditions the comp was postponed until the following weekend as the sea was like a lake and then the next weekend it was like Waimea Bay, talk about give us a go. Anyway some events coming up; seems like the Yacht club are not interested in us holding a do there, so we have a new venue called Coffee Sisters on the corner of Monaco St. and Rio Vista Blvd, members interested need to let me know by next comp if they are going for catering purposes, it will be $10.00 a head and they are licensed, this will happen Saturday arvo 5 p.m. at the end of July. Also seems we have a budding film producer in Jimbo Aird who is doing a Doco on Narrowneck Longboard Club, so be there to be in it. I would also like to say a big thank you at this time to Lisa and Sid for doing a great job with the tallying, a thankless job. Next comp all going well, is on June 14th at 7 a.m. which will also have an Old Mal heat or two. That's about all for now hope to see you in the green room,

Norm Da Prez.

MAY COMP

Welcome to the May non-newsletter and this month we have got bugger all to go on with so I thought I would make a big deal about that .

We weren't allowed to surf on Mother's Day, so the show was postponed to the following Sunday.

The next weekend, there was no surf at Lake Narrowneck but the masses turned out anyway.

The highlight of the day was probably the BBQ or the announcement that Greg and Lisa Aird have become grandparents for the first time. Congratulations Tommy. There is no truth to the rumour that the baby has been named after a former club member. Apparently Greg's dad's name is Angus and that's who the little fella was named after. Papa.

After some debate it was decided to try again the following Sunday.

The next week was totally out of control with huge seas and high tides and a foot of sand covering Main Beach Parade. In case anyone missed it, there was sand 50 metres along the foot bridge over to Macintosh Island.

Normie has mentioned everything else, Coffee Sisters for a bit of socialising away from the beach in July and Jimbo Aird's documentary about the Club.

There's a nice photo of Grunta perched on the nose of his old mal at the Malfunction in the current edition of Australian Longboarder. Well done.

OTHER CRAP. What's been doing around the beach? All the rubbish that's fit to print (and a fair bit that isn't).

Between stories about group gropes in New Zealand to bimbos in King's Cross not witnessing shootings to a crazy swine flu that's going to infect us all, what a weird old world it has been this past few weeks, eh Papa?

At the mention of sexual shenanigans in Christchurch, Kevy immediately thought we were talking about shearing season. What goes on in the shed, stays in the shed, eh Kev?

There are a couple of comps coming up – the Winter Longboard Championships at Alex on the Queens Birthday long weekend, 6 to 8 June and I think that the Queensland titles are on at Alex on the same day as our scheduled club comp.

Some of the local longboard crew had a wave over on Wavebreak Island at the height of the storms and big seas. Apparently it wasn't all that flash, but at least they got wet.

If you were contemplating going to the Wrecks and Relics comp at Noosa on 20/21 June and you haven't got your entry in already, then forget about applying, as it is well and truly oversubscribed. They have a waiting list that's bigger than the entries already accepted apparently.

Commiserations to Little Patto who fractured his femur, which is the medical term for thigh bone, playing rugby. Mum Lisa wasn't pleased from all accounts.

From all accounts, we have about ten members with pre '67 boards that qualify for the old mal category, so bring them along next round.
